About Me

Hi, my name is Alex, i'm 21 y.o. I am a creative person with technical skills. I have been working as a Wordpress Developer for over 1.5 years. During this time I've gained valuable experience working in the web development industry. I've completed a React course and created some personal projects using this framework. I would like to build my career as a React Frontend Developer, because it is a super convenient and fun tool to work with.

I also have a lot of hobbies, for example drawing, 3D art, DIY, etc. For this reason, I have knowledge and experience of using such applications as Photoshop, Figma, Blender3D and Substance Painter.
